TESTIMONIAL

Re: Adriana Dragovic
Find Your Money

To Whom It May Concern:

Adriana Dragovic is a bookkeeper; her business name is Find Your Money. She has been a bookkeeper for over 20 years, during which time she has done client write up work of monthly books, bookkeeping review, and has prepared statements for over a thousand different business clients.

I have known and worked with Adriana for over three years. We met in BNI, and I was fortunate enough to get to know her and meet to discuss her business skills. During our three years in BNI, I have referred several different business clients to her for preparation of bookkeeping. Each of these clients personally told me that they were absolutely thrilled with the work she performed. Before meeting her, their books were frequently in total disarray. She came on board, took their financial records, and cleaned up the books resulting in a balance sheet and profit and loss of complete material accuracy. She matches up each balance sheet account to the actual statement that goes with it. She prepares adjusting entries to make sure these accounts are correct and that the books accurately reflect the financial results of the business.

In addition to her diligence and work ethic, she is a wonderful person and a joy to work with. Clients have informed me that they enjoy their working relationship with her and look forward to seeing her on a regular basis.

On top of her years of experience in bookkeeping, she is also a QuickBooks certified expert, giving her the ability to answer any questions a client may have about how the software works, and allowing her to prepare special entries using her specialized knowledge.

I am truly glad to have met her work closely with her. There is not a client I know that I wouldn't feel comfortable referring to her.

Sincerely,

Vera Des Fosses, CPA EA
